Boë is a superior gin of the highest class. Inspired by the original recipe created by Franz de la Boë in the 17th Century, who whilst searching for a 'tonic' infused a spirit using juniper berries, discovering gin.

13 rare, hand picked botanicals and spices are vapour infused using Caterhead stills to create a superior gin characteristically citrus with extraordinary balance and smoothness.

Boë Superior Gin is cut to exactly 47% ABV, liberating the full flavours of gin, distinctive, unique and refreshing in keeping with the vision held by Franz de la Boë.

The Tullibardine Distillery sits on the site of Scotland's first ever brewery, a purveyor of fine beer enjoying the royal patronage of King James 1V after his coronation in 1488.

This remarkable Tullibardine 1488 Whisky Beer is brewed with the pure crystal spring water and malted barley used in the distillation process. It is conditioned in oak casks used in the maturation of Scotch Whisky, its distinctive character beautifully balanced by the lightness of touch so familiar to Tullibardine connoisseurs the world over. This truly majestic Whisky Beer is best served chilled.
